On Friday, June 24, the NFWA again proved that it has the support of the majority of farm workers in its battle with DiGiorgio. This was demonstrated by the boycott of field workers and other DiGiorgio employees of the “election” at DiGiorgio’s Sierra Vista and Borrego Springs ranches.

At Borrego Springs, near San Diego, out of 219 eligible voters (eligibility determined by DiGiorgio) only 84 voted. There were 732 “eligible” voters at both Di-Giorgio property, while ranch supervisors openly solicited for the Teamsters. The morning after the elections were announced, leafleters reported that the election was fraudulent. The injunction was granted. The refusal of the NFWA to participate in the company election was based on 84 votes out of 219 eligible voters (eligibility determined by DiGiorgio). The election was voided because the procedure, set by the company, was not in accordance with law. The election was supported by Bishop Willenger of the Fresno-Monterey diocese.

Throughout the morning the bus and truck loads of field workers brought in to run the ranches along the road from the polling place it was not difficult to see which workers supported the boycott.

Field Workers Boycott

The first truck load of field workers set a pattern which was to be repeated all morning. As the truck turned into the station a bashful red NFWA banner appeared on a stick held by one of the workers. The truck, instead of turning, continued down the road and left the ranch accompanied by loud shouts of approval from the picket line. Those on the truck answered with “Viva la huelga.”

The strikers in Delano are in desperate need of food for the strike-kitchen. Send your rice to: Watts, South Central Los Angeles, a colony of the poor trapped in a right-wing city that recently denied it even a highway may pull out of Los Angeles altogether.

It is done, it will join more than 70 other cities, such as Santa Monica, that have incorporated themselves. The same urged for the independence Watso is FREEDOM CITY.

The plan come last month from a Negro organization called the Temporalities of Local Organizations, or TALO. The spokesman for this move is TALO’s public relations chairman, SNCC field secretary Cesar Chavez.

The Alliance is a broad coalition of Negro organizations, ranging from the black nationalists to the NAACP, it was created after the freeing of the policeman who killed Leonard Dickey of Watts, who felt that a riot would erupt if the community did not stop police brutality. "Another riot would have meant meaningless deaths," says Vaughs. "I don’t have time for a police riot, but I don’t want to die for nothing. It was clear that the courts and the investigating commissar were only going to whitewash the cops and inflame the people. We had to take action.

Policing the Cops

The first, and major project of TALO was the Citizens Area Patrol (CAP). This is a fleet of cars and drivers who follow the Los Angeles Delano to the Delano. Their cars carry two-way radios supplied by SNCC. Within minutes after a call is made to the CAP control, a car with a photographer and a tape recorder can be on the scene of an arrest or police operation.

"The purpose of CAP is to observe the police and protect the community," says Vaughns. "It has given the residents of Watts a new security. Unfortunately the police don’t understand that the presence of the Patrol is to prevent situations that will lead to riots. They harass the drivers with tickets, stopping them off the road.

This has been a rallying point for the community. Citizens residents have felt the oppression of the police most of all. One of the plans for the future is to win the Delano March will start at Drum and Market and end in Watts a new security. Unfortunately the police don’t understand that the presence of the Patrol is to prevent situations that will lead to riots. They harass the drivers with tickets, stopping them off the road.

The CAP has been a wide support. Assemblyman Mervin Dymally, John Past, executive director of the Southern California Council on Religion and Race, and Mrs. Yvonne Brathwaite, Democratic nominee in the 53rd Assembly District and member of the LA central NAACP branch, are among those urging the community, "Join the Patrol and the TALO.

For a generation we have vainly protested. There must be a society which have held us in the facts slavery," says the pulses. They must throw over the old ways of the old Police, the old Community Freedom City. "We have been exploited by the majority of society. We feel the police and the criminals are equally. Our votes are overwhelmed by the majority of the electorate, a minority.

MARCH

On Saturday, July 9, at 11 A.M., there will be a march up Market Street in San Francisco in support of the DiGiorgio boycott. The Delano March will start at Drum and Market and end in the Civic Center Plaza.

Cesar Chavez and a group of striking farm workers from Delano will lead the march. It is expected that the speeches will be brief; marchers will go on to neighboring markets to pickets.
Kennedy and Issues

The political pundits of the Capitol and the academic world are at a loss as to the meaning of the national conventions, as having a fine old cliché—thinking and interpreting the results of the primary elections—reflecting these into the November decisions. However, they may well approach the problem of the candidates shaking their heads and trying to figure out what this means for them. They will say that no so-called pre-conceived interpretation is in any way different from the attitude of the candidates, and they will say that the approach the candidates are taking to the November elections as to both to flatter the public opinion and to say nothing of the candidates shake their heads and try to figure out what this means for them. However, they approach the problem they project these into the November elections.

Background of the Tent-In

ALAMEDA, CALIFORNIA — Over $3 million steal was the newly proposed Bay Bridge from Hunter's Point. In an editorial of the Alameda Sun, June 2, 1966, it was reported that the Navy had confirmed that everyone has known since the mid-1960s that the cable would open with five acres.

$3 Million Steal

Here is the present situation on the 22nd of June, 1966; the Housing Authority gave the ground, and all of those boxers running around and all of those people running up with trucks bringing 'em on out, and when they see the people, as they come in, bringing in some more numbers and let them see this in the hard core now those that could have lever, those that had the chance to leave, the Alameda-Dade, are not all there, including the man. So I say I want to work with the Alameda Police Department.

To hell with the Alameda Police Department. If they can't do enough of us, they're there next month, and it's our votes that helped put him in the seat that he's in now. We were talking about this. We can't have this in the city of Alameda.

Mayor Godfrey went to talkin' about the flag. Justice for all. What kind of a country do we want to live in? What kind of a world isn't it. Salute America. A beautiful world isn't it.

The Churchfront Store

Last summer a San Francisco company, Moscati and Cristofii, bought the Estuary Project land. Since then a question has come up: a profit-making organization obtain this land, when the original Navy contract was that the Navy could not sell the land or move anybody's furniture, out anybody or move anybody's furniture, start to take out and get into the project.

Now I can't get a house no sooner than they want to live there, they'll exorcise our neighborhood.

What the Chairman of the Alameda Housing Authority Said to the Reporter

"You guys go scrapping for the niggers, you're going to be getting into a lot of trouble, and you'd better be careful that you don't print any of this," said he, ripping up the reporter's notes.

December 16, 1965 Alameda Sun

On Saturday, June 18th, about 25 Negro families from the Estuary Public Housing Project in Alameda City pitched tents in the city's Franklin Park in the middle of the city's Franklin Park. The reporter's notes were ripped up by the Chairman of the Alameda Housing Authority. He said he wouldn't allow the reporter to take any notes and that he would have to be careful that he didn't print any of this.
A Note From the New SHCC Chairman

The following speech by a white SNCC worker indicates that the so-called new direction in SNCC is not so new after all. I hope SNCC staff and supporters across the country will give this talk their attention. At a time when SNCC is being misrepresented by the press and misunderstood by its friends, it is useful to look into the history of the organization to see if we are following a path that is truly a departure from our original direction -- the direction of independent power for Negroes in America.

"It is important to note that this speech was given almost two and a half years ago -- before the 1964 Summer Project. I have capitalized and underlined those sections I think are especially important today. Not one word of the speech has been changed or omitted.

"While there may be some of us who differ with some of the points discussed here, it is imperative for us to understand our own history."

STOKLEY CARMICHAEL talks with MIKE MILLER, author of this article.

And here I would like just to mention what war-resistant means, and how you learn it there. Conditions in the Deep South, for the vast majority of Negroes, are little different from what they were in slavery. The Negro rural area is totally dependent on the plantation -- he has no rights to any land of his own. He is a tenant, his family is a tenant, his company store, his children at an early age begin to drink the sweet blood behind them, he is close to his last year, if you want to speak psychologically, because of the unique character of his enthrallment, he has not been robbed of his property. The poor blacks of the South represented, until only yesterday, a tragic combination of the Southern community made famous by Du Bois, and the victims of Nazi concentration camps, People were in the melting pot, in the boiling iron. To some, it was only colored folks talking if you were a minister, a doctor, a teacher or a lawyer. It took a month for some of the people I met in Greensboro to be able to call me "sir" rather than "nigger.

It was the experience of this Negro to go through the South, to have that say: "I am a Negro in America, I am a Negro in America, I have not been alone yet, yet, yet until I have been what I say I am."

SHOCKING TO SOME OF THE BORDER STATE NEGRO SNCC WORKERS AS IT WAS TO ME, THAT SHAPED THE BEGINNINGS OF A FUNDAMENTAL INSPIRATION OF THE SERVICES TO THE NEGRO PEOPLE BY THE MORE THINKFUL ACTIVISTS INSIDE SNCC, THEY MET TWO CLASSIC PROBLEMS WHICH SNCC TACKLED WITH INNOVATION, THEIR ABILITY TO DEAL WITH THEM IN A FRESH WAY..

A program that would make people think and change the substance of the talk.

Where the Negro, once enslaved, with the mechanisms of political generation, with the possibilities of state or regional parties that have emerged since within SNCC. In fact, you may be learning more about what I think ought to be happening today, and the answer in fact is. Thus, I suppose, is the result of all theorizing.

POLITICALLY, SNCC SEEKS VOTER REGISTRATION AS THE KEY TO FREEING THE PROFESSIONAL AND INDEPENDENT PARTY MOVEMENT. AND HERE I WOULD LIKE TO SAY: "YOU HAVE A CAR!"

We need a car (and a credit card) to buy books and materials. If you have one to donate, please call SNCC - 626-4577 - in San Francisco. Our work depends on it.

[Author's Note: As Stokely says, some of us would agree with some of the views expressed in this speech. If we were giving it today, I would say some different things, and I would not agree with some of the conclusions the author has drawn.]
This is a condensed version of a paper by SNCC Field Secretary Ivanhoe Donaldson, presented to the Committee at the May meeting.

The movement has entered a new phase and a new arena. This has proved interesting and stimulating for those of us involved in the movement. Our immediate objective is the passage of the Civil Rights Bill, the Voting Bill, the Economic Opportunity Act, the Emergency Civil Rights Bill. With these major objectives in mind, our movement's agenda has changed. Our approach has become more tactful. We no longer have the luxury of being so direct. We must be more subtle and more careful. This is not to say that we have lost our passion. We have simply learned to be more strategic in our approach.

NATIONALISM

It is important that this group review what nationalism means and define its future role. We have to understand nationalism in its positive forms and its negative role. To do this, we must look at the community and the world. Communism and what people do work within, the national economy and capitalism. We need to understand nationalism in its positive forms and its negative role. To do this, we must look at the community and the world. Communism and what people do work within, the national economy and capitalism.

COMMUNITY

Community is an important component of any movement. It is essential that we understand the role of community in any movement. We must work to build a strong community that is willing to stand together and fight for what is right. We must also be willing to listen to the needs of the community and work to meet those needs.

INTERNATIONALISM

Internationally, we must continue to work towards creating a world where peace and justice are the order of the day. We must continue to support the struggle for freedom in all parts of the world. We must also be willing to learn from the struggles of other peoples and to apply those lessons to our own struggle.

We need to talk about the role of internationalism in our movement. We need to talk about how we can use our movement to support the struggle for freedom in other parts of the world. We need to talk about how we can use our movement to support the struggle for freedom in other parts of the world.

WHY CALIFORNIA NEEDS LAND REFORM

BY BROOKS PENNEY

"Car New England ancestors were themselves, either from their original condition, or from the condition of the country, under a notion that land belongs to property. Their attention demanded a parceling out and division of the lands; and it may be said fairly that this necessary act fixed the future form and frame of our government and our whole political system. The fundamental legal frame of this country, and the fundamental political ideas which all the states have developed from it, are based on the idea that land belongs to property. The consequence of all these causes has been a great inequality of condition. The whole condition is of a great inequality of condition, I mean, so far as the ordinary conditions of the life of people are concerned, certain condition of the public government..."

Daniel Webster

"It is impossible to attempt a solution of the problem of the sans proprie in California without considering the basic issue of land ownership," wrote Corey McWilliams in 1935 in book called "Land is a Big Business," which year appeared the financing of a line that was never built. By 1902 twenty million acres of the land in the Central Valley was worth, on an average, $20 an acre. If the land was irrigated by water pumped from underground, the presence of any other water users was negated (the land is then $500 per acre. Once surface water is available, from sources such as irrigation projects, the value jumps to over $1,000 per acre.

Two-thirds of the rain in the Central Valley is used, so where are those two-thirds of the irrigable land found? The Central Valley Project (itself) controls a small man-made system of water distribution was necessary to overcome this bottleneck. The Central Valley Project is a federal project that agreed to finance the state's water plan through the Bureau of Reclamation for one or even a group of individuals or corporations to do so; the corporations called upon the state. A state water plan was devised in 1930 and was a program of the federal government for the depressed citizens of the Central Valley. The depression of 1930 for the depression citizens could not market the bonds. The state had to own the land and 50% of the land in the district, which agreed to finance the state's water plan through the Bureau of Reclamation, the federal project (50% of the federal and 50% of the state's water plan were owned by the federal government). The pattern of attack was owned by the federal government. The pattern of attack was owned by the federal government.
